June 26th 1889.

My dear Grandma,

I am very sorry not to have ^{written} to you before, but I really have been so busy that I hope it will stand as a good excuse for me; besides brother & I have both had whooping-cough. Did Aunt Bertha bring my tablecloth with her, or is it still in Chicago? If it is with you, will you please send it to me; if Aunt Bertha has it I will have it right away as she is coming next Thursday to spend the rest of the summer with us.

Mamma & Papa have rented one of the prettiest flats I have ever seen. I enclose a plan of it, which I drew for you but which are a little out of proportion.
It is delightful here & we we enjoy the sulphur baths & walking ever so much.
I have written to Grandpa twice since we have been here & he has answered me both times.

Mamma is going to have a German governess for me, who can teach me every thing in German, & give me a French lesson every day, & besides a lesson in English spelling, so as not to forget either my French or English! Grandpa writes me that he thinks perhaps he can get you over this side of the Atlantic. If so you must make us a nice long visit. I hope Aunt Louisa 4 will answer my letter to her soon.

Do you know that we have only had one rainy day since we have been in Austria & that was yesterday.
We have had beautiful weather all the time not too hot & not rainy.
I have really written a long letter & hope to get an answer soon. With much love & hoping to see you in Vienna next winter I am Yours lovingly,
Julia Grant.
